Like other organisations we are subject to the General Data Protection Regulation. We are required to inform you why we keep data that can identify you and to give you a chance to ask us to delete that data should you so wish. We keep details of our members names and addresses so that we can deliver copies of the Newsletters that we produce, currently three times each year. We ask you for an email address if you have one, so that we can send you a monthly reminder of our talks, and add any other items (history or heritage related) that we think may interest you. Very rarely we may send more than one email each month – if we have some particular news that we think may interest you. If you are likely to attend any talks you may also choose to give us your telephone number so that we can inform you if for any reason a talk is cancelled at the last moment (usually only because of severe winter weather!)

You have supplied the information that we hold, and we will not pass it to anyone else without your permission (normally only another member of WLHG). You may ask us to delete the data at any time although we could not continue your membership if you do so. We intend to hold the data during the period of your membership, and will delete it if and when you cease to be a member.

On the conditions stated above, I am happy for you to keep the above details supplied by me, during the period of my membership.
